Spotlight

3D Sphere Animation for Duel•Ality Performance Created by Elizabeth Miklavcic

Duel•Ality 2.0* is in development. The latest upgrade to the Duel•Ality performance includes new features and extended run time. This is not the newest killer App; it is Another Language's premier 3D telematic cinema production. Duel and Ality will return in the up-coming season performance of Duel•Ality 2.0. This telematic theatrical work builds on the relationship between Duel and Ality and the way this duo interacts and functions in this technological world, highlighting their activities and interrelationships. Duel•Ality 2.0 will feature 3D visual content throughout the performance.

Another Language Performing Arts Company will extract the visual content from the flat screen and place the experience right into the laps of the audience. The company is upgrading its technology to include a new high definition 3D projector and outfitting the display system with the Nvidia Quadro 5000 graphics card with stereoscopic 3D and 3D high-definition broadcasting capabilities. This will allow the visual graphics and animations to appear to float about the space before the audience.

The Nvidia Quadro 5000 has a single Graphics Processing Unit

NVIDIA Quadro 5000 3D Graphic Card

(GPU) with 352 Compute Unified Device Architecture (CUDA) Cores and a 2.5 GB Frame Buffer. The device can process up to an amazing 950 million triangles per second. The projector is an Acer H5360 1280 x 720, 2500 Lumen DLP system. In preliminary tests with one of the popular 3D video games, it felt that players could just step into the game and vanish into the digital nether world. The company is excited about updating and developing visual content for Duel•Ality 2.0.

Acer h5360bd 3D DLP Projector

This new technology will provide additional ways to explore innovative creativity and express the company's artistic and groundbreaking ideas. Mark your calendars now for Duel•Ality 2.0, premiering on February 24 – March 4, 2012.
